Francesco Grossetti, Ph.D.

Assistant Professor of Accounting Analytics and Data Science

Current Academic Positions

Sep. 2018 – Present,

Assistant Professor of Accounting Analytics and Data Science,
Department of Accounting – Bocconi University
Bocconi Institute for Data Science and Analytics (BIDSA)

My research employs computational and statistical approaches to gain insights into the behavior of companies and investors' perceptions. Specifically, I use and enhance Natural Language Processing techniques and language models to examine the impact of financial and non-financial disclosures on key financial performance. Additionally, I leverage Deep Learning-based Computer Vision methods to extract visual information from financial disclosures. Furthermore, I investigate the economic implications of Blockchain and other Distributed Ledger Systems, exploring their potential to foster novel research avenues and revolutionize accounting practices. Finally, I work on time-to-event models and their stochastic properties to study the dynamic process that generate the observable accounting information at hand.

March 11 - March 15, 2024, CIVICA Visiting Assistant Professor,
IE University

January 2024 - Current, Visiting Associate Professor,
Norwegian School of Economics

Previous Academic Positions

October 2022, Visiting Assistant Professor,
IE University

Feb. 2017 – Aug. 2018, Postdoctoral Fellow with Grant,
Department of Accounting – Bocconi University

Nov. 2013 – Jan. 2017, Ph.D. Student – Applied and Computational Statistics,
Department of Mathematics – Politecnico di Milano

Sep. 2011 – Mar. 2014, Research Fellow,
Department of Management, Economics and Industrial Engineering –
Politecnico di Milano

Apr. 2011 – July. 2011, Account Manager, Cubeyou

Education

2013 – 2017, Department of Mathematics – Politecnico di Milano

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Applied and Computational Statistics

Mining Large Administrative Databases: Efficient and Scalable Algorithms for Statistical Modeling

Advisor: Prof. Anna Maria Paganoni

May 28th – 29th 2012, Alma Graduate School – Università di Bologna

Consumer Analytics Program: Probability models for customer-base analysis

Instructors: Prof. Fader (Wharton) & Prof. Hardie (LBS)

2007 – 2010, Università degli Studi di Milano – Bicocca

MSc in Astrophysics and Space Physics

2003 – 2007, Università degli Studi di Milano – Bicocca

BSc in Physics

Teaching Experience

Director and Instructor, Department of Accounting – Bocconi University [2018 – Present]

All courses have been created and developed by myself except the SDA Bocconi course.

Current Courses

- Big Data for Business Decisions
(Elective – MSc in Finance, Accounting, Management, Economics, avg. 8.92/10)
- Introduction to Blockchain
(Elective – BSc in Computer Science, Finance, Accounting, avg. 8.95/10)
- Computational Applications For Accounting
(Elective – BSc in Mathematical and Computing Sciences for Artificial Intelligence, avg. 9.48/10)
- Mastering Data for Insurance - Natural Language Processing Module
(Custom Program @ SDA Bocconi School of Management, avg. 9.7/10)

Past Courses

- Deep Learning for Computer Vision (MSc in Data Science & Business Analytics).
 - Accounting and Financial Statement Analysis Module 1 (BSc in Accounting, Finance).

Scientific Activity

Research Grants

CIVICA Research Grant EXECML — Using Machine Learning to Uncover Subjective Incentives in Executive Compensation, with IE University and Stockholm School of Economics (June 2024 - May 2026).

CIVICA Faculty Short Visits Program Optimal Benchmarking for Mutual Fund Performance Evaluation with Natural Language Processing, IE University, Madrid, Spain (March 2024).

Bocconi Senior Researchers' Grants - Co-P.I. Multi-modal Communication in Corporate Reporting: Combining Words and Images in Corporate Disclosure.
9,000 € from November 2020 to November 2021

Bocconi Junior Researchers' Grants - P.I. edgartools an Open Source Library to Efficiently Collect Financial Filings from SEC EDGAR Database.
8,000 € from May 2019 to May 2020.

Academic Services

- I have served as a reviewer for the following journals: Journal of Accounting and Public Policy, Finance Research Letters, Journal of Business, Finance, and Accounting, International Review of Financial Analysis, Accounting Forum, and Applied Stochastic Models in Business and Industry.
- Member of the Accounting, Finance, and Control Graduate Program Committee at Bocconi University.
- Member of the Bocconi's High Performance Computing Committee.
- 41th Annual Congress of European Accounting Association: Member of the Local Organizing Committee – May 30th – June 1st 2018, Milan, Italy.

Public Software

OpTop Optimal Topic Model Specification hosted at [Github]: R package to detect the optimal number of topics from a pool of Latent Dirichlet Allocation models. The package implements a set of parametric tests to carry out model selection [Lewis & Grossetti \(2022\)].

msmtools Multi-State Models Tools hosted at [Github]: R package which implements a fast and efficient algorithm to restructure classical longitudinal database into an augmented format. This increments the amount of information out of data and facilitates the modeling through the companion package msm [Grossetti et al. (2021)].
